Like most people, I started doing Kleeneze to earn a little extra cash, £200 would have been enough to help pay the bills, as you can see I got a lot more than expected from the very first month.

Working around my full time job and family commitments, I was able to choose the hours I worked and a few months after joining, my partner also got involved, and at this point we were both working towards finishing our full-time employment, as doing Kleeneze part-time seemed the better option.

Our reasons for doing Kleeneze changed. We both wanted to be there for our 2 children, and we realised that Kleeneze could give us the time freedom and the kind of future that people in the 'normal job' world can only wish for. Thanks to Kleeneze, and advice from everyone we've met, and the help and support from the people that introduced us to this opportunity, it became possible. Working part time, I've since sacked the boss and work from home, we enjoy what we do, and more importantly, we have dreams and goals for the future.....

So whether you just simply want a wage boost, or want to sack the boss, Kleeneze really does work, it's so simple, just put the catalogues out and show others how to do the same.
